* * Thursday, June 28, 1979 Philadelphia Daily News 5

Teacher's Murder

By KAREN SCANLON The big red Do Not Enter sign police have story Ardmore twin home seems out of place in summer vel. But then, neighborhood on a place and summer vel. Seems out of place that ther served 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother server 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother server 36 year-old suburban mother server 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother server 36 year-old suburban mother server 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother that ther server 36 year-old suburban mother server and Karen, 11, are missing. "IT'S JUST UNBELIEVABLE," one housewife said. "She was a good neighbor, a nice lady and a great mother." On Monday, following information from an anonymous male tipster, police discovered Reinert's body at 5.30 am. inside the open hatchback of her Plymouth Horizon parked at

Statewide Grand Jury Is Sought

HARRISBURG (UPI) — Attorney General Edward Biester Jr. today announced he has petitioned the state Supreme Court for permission to empanel Pennsylvania's first state-urd arend urv.

state supretine court to permission to empanel Pennsylvania's first state-wide grand jury. Although he declined to give spe-cifics of the ongoing investigations, Biester said the grand jury would probe six general areas. Targeted were: • Frauduient billing by contrac-tors and orbies to state employes. • Macing involving state agencies. • Drug dealing involving simulta-neous illegal activities in several international involvement. • Organized crime activity in connection with illegal landfill oper-ations.

consection with itegal landfill oper-ations.
Systematic diversion of state sales tax revenues.
Illegal gambling operations in-cluding sports bookmaking, numbers games illegal lotteries on a large scale that cross county lines.
THE ATTORNEY general said the grand jury, which will probably consist of 30 citizens chosen state-wide, would have the power to subpen a witnesses and evidence and grant immunity to witnesses.

"These investigations have reached the point where, if we did not have the tool of the grand jury, we could not go forward," Biester said.

said. He said the chief justice of the state Supreme Court had ten days to de-cide whether to grant permission for the grand jury. If the chief justice refuses to allow empanelling of the grand jury, the petition could be appealed to the full state supreme court, according to Biester.

The legislature last year passed legislation authorizing the use of statewide grand juries.

The attorney general said the grand jury also may be given additional cases to investigate.

A Correction

A photograph that appeared in the early editions of Tuesday's Daily News was incorrectly identified as state Attorney General Edward Biester.

her. "What did they do with the other two?" asked one investigator, himself the father of two. "We've gone as far as checking every dumpster in the township." Interviews with turnpike toll collectors, acquaintances and several of the children's hady sitters have yielded no new information noew information onew information one with several different was called by police to identify his called by the data several different was called by police to identify his called by the data several different was a very attentive mom and her children were several and good."

Shocks

Neighbors

So far there are no wilnesses or suspects to the case. Friends said the Upper Merion High School, English teacher had no steady boyfrend, but recalled she had recently started seeing one man on a casual basis. "She had no big plans this summer, she was simply going to work on the house and relax," a neighbor said. "Last year she taught school all summer long to get back on her feet finan-cially. She was a very attentive mom and her children were sweet and good."

Gray Endorses Green for Mayor

By MARK MANOFF

BYMARK MANOFF Democratic mayoral candidate william J. Green yesterday picked up his first endorsement from a support-er of Charles W. Bowser in last month's primary, and responded with specific promises to bring blower into its procession of the blower into the procession of the blower into the procession of the pro-mage of the promised the areas of the left of the promised the areas of the order of the promised the areas of the other of the promised the areas of the pro-section of director or innance director in the is elected. Green one promised to appoint a Department jobs — police commis-sioner and deputy commissioners for investigation and training of uni-formed forces — and said it was a "disgrace" that no blacks serve on the SEPTA board. "At all departments, at the highest levels, there will be minority repre-sentation," Green said in the stron-gest statement he has made on black involvement in government during his eight months of campaigning for myor.

mayor. In March Green declined to re-spond specifically to black leaders' questions on jobs for blacks, and he spoke in general terms during the

with the APPPROVAL of 30 labor with the approval of them

Vandals Hit 2 PHA Offices

Valuation of the second second

A PHA official said it was believed the phone call report was faise and part of a scheme to create a diversion for the vandalism. The PHA said sometime between midnight and 545 a.m., someone threw bricks through six central office windows at the Chestnut St. location and painted the words "Crooked City" on a wall.

THE DAMAGE — estimated at between $2,000 and $3,000 — oc-curred as most of the PHA policemen were returning to work to end a sev-enday wildcat strike. The PHA said about 80 percent of the more than 200 guards reported for duty yesterday and today, with a "hard nut" of 25 to 30 officers continuing the walkout. "We are taking a wait-and-see atti-tude with them for the time being to see if they return," said PHA spokes-man Robert Alotta.

man Robert Alotta. The PHA has fired eight officers who were affiliated with Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 106, which is trying to win collective bargaining rights over the men from their pre-sent union, Security Officers Union Local 1. The melbout menderated Local 1. The walkout was started, according to a spokesman for the officers, be-cause the guards who patrol the ci-ty's 42 housing projects want "the same rights in bargaining that Phila-delphia police officers get."

Dealers Pumped Too Much Into Green's '76 Senate Bid

Into Green's 76 Secnet Bid Bate New York Washington - Mayoral candi-date William Green's 1976 Senate sampaign committee agreed to pay a stood in allegal donations from the philadelphicabased Service Station bealers Political Action Commission the Federal Election Commission revealed this week. The fine followed a 1977 FEC probe Under federal election laws, the FEC decides in executive seasion whether a party has committed a violation and doesn't make the matter public until after a private "conciliation' settlement is reached or unless the case, we termed Green "a man case goes to court. black, Gray termed Green "a man with solid achievements" with "a proven commitment to the poor, the elderly and the minority communi-"It is time to unite behind a man who can build on those things which we have in common rather than ex-ploiting our differences," Gray said in a press conference at the Ben Pranklin Hote. Gray's endorsement is important to Green's courting of the 150,000 black voters who voted for Bowser in the primary and were frustrated and resentful when Bowser's low-budge. Gray is a friend of Green's, but the Congressman was one of the almost solid phalanx of black Democratic leaders who endorsed Bowser in the primary. Green's promises on black apooint primary. Green's promises on black appoi

Great Byromises on black appoint-ments came almost a month after David W. Marston, his Republican opponent, promised to appoint a black managing director fielected. "It seems to me Bill Green is saying. Me, too," Warston said yesterday. Green strongly came out against what State Kep. Milton Street (D., Phi-la) has dubbed "recycling"—forcing poor people from their neighbor-hoods by rehabilitating the area and selling the homes to wealthy outsid-ex. "Not one dime of public money will bespenton recycling." Green said.

Copyright © 2020 Newspapers.com. All Rights Reserved.

Ι