CHERRY HILL — Police Athletic League (PAL) Week, the largest athletic fundraising event on the township calendar, begins tomorrow with the dunk of a basketball...

"I'm going to be one of the people on the list," said Deputy Mayor Howard Call. "I guess with the change of weather you'll have to call it a cold one."

Gull is also assistant chairman of the fundraising campaign, which is expected to generate enough money to expand PAL's program and run it for a year.

The campaign week begins tomorrow morning with a basketball marathon at Cherry Hill High School West and closes Oct. 21 in a day-long celebration called a "Pols-a-Thon" that includes a "tournament," entertainment, games, food and beer gardens.

The week's events, along with door-to-door collections and requests to local businesses, is expected to raise $250,000 for PAL, which provides job-opportunities athletic programs for community youngsters and adults.

"We expect to be able to operate PAL, for a full year on that money by using it to bring programs directly to the people in the community," Gull said.

Adams said the teachers would appeal the back-to-work order, which he said appeared to be a permanent injunction in effect for the school year.

The new prison commissioner is John L.
