Kyhl Gets Ovation

ISS MOONES — Sen. Vernon Kyhl, R-Parkburg, was given an ovation Tuesday when he walked back into the Senate chamber after an absence of nearly six weeks due to illness. He was greeted at his home on weekend in early May and was not expected to return this session.

Sen. Kyhl, who enjoys a good deal of popularity with his fellow senators and Senate employees, appears slim, trim and fat after being 15 pounds.

The Senate had to wait in putting him to work. He presided over the Senate on Monday, but for more than an hour Tuesday afternoon while Lt. Gov. Roger Johnson was in a leadership meeting looking for answers to an estimated $1 million budget deficit at the end of the last session.

Historically, the budget deficit the legislature gave distributed Tuesday indicated that the state will be in the red about $10 million at the end of the current session, now only two weeks away.

'No Balance' Budgeting

The budget deficit for this session and the predicted deficit for the next illustrate the failure of attempts at "no balance" budgeting.

For years legislators have urged the legislature to maintain a working balance of approximately $10 million in the state treasury.

The current budget, drafted two years ago, provided for the expenditure of virtually every cent of anticipated revenue. A business decline in 1970 dropped state revenue below estimates and put the state in the red.

Both Sen. Roger Shiff, R-Camanche, chairman of the Senate ways and means committee, and Sen. Francis Manser, R-Cedar Falls, chairman of the appropriations committee, believe the state should get back on a sound fiscal track.

Sen. Shiff would like to shoot at a working balance of at least $10 million, preferably $15 million, as quickly as possible.

But Sen. Shiff says that when the state's resources are used to balance the budget, the state's income tax is left in a state of deficit, both subject to wide fluctuations in employment and retail sales tax and full estimates of anticipated state income taxes are what is known as a "scientific, wild-eyed guess."

Late Appointments

It seems like late. Robert Ray, a long time to get things done. He set two appointments — John Lusk, Burlington, in the Conservation Commission and Law Bill, Director, in the Natural Resources Council — in the Senate Tuesday.

The legislature is scheduled to adjourn in the next day or two, while Senate rules require that appointments be held for seven days while a committee investigates their qualifications. The Senate will either have to suspend its rules or set out on its appointments until next January.

Highway Commission Lockout

DAVENPORT (AP) — When workers reported for duty at an Iowa Highway Commission maintenance garage north of here Wednesday morning they found they already were locked out of work.

A padlock was fastened to the gate.

Police signs also had been erected at strategic points around the Scott County facility.

The same 20 workers who reported milled around outside until highway department officials arrived. The padlock was then removed and the men returned to their work.

Highway Commission workers around the state have demanded more pay costing Gov. Robert Ray to issue a directive warning commission employees not to attempt to reach their goal by means of a strike.

Highway officials said the workers here Wednesday morning to return to their jobs and said to see what the legislature does about their pay hike requests.

Victim 'Quiet but Friendly'

Waverly Shaken by Death

By Staff Writer

WAVERLY — A warlike, quiet little neighborhood, a block northwest of downtown Waverly, was in a state of shock Wednesday morning after learning of the strangulation death of one of its young residents, 14-year-old Valerie Lynn Kinoway.

Neighbors described the girl as quiet but friendly and said that she was a frequent playmate of neighborhood children.

The girl's body was found Tuesday morning under a bridge about three miles west of Waverly.

The neighbors of the girl said they never saw the girl with any boys or girls. However, a 16-year-old boy, two grades ahead of Valerie as school, said she had "a lot of boyfriends."

"Not Suspicious"

When he heard that a girl had been murdered he said he was "not suspicious" but did not think it had been Valerie.

Valerie, an older sister of Denise, and a younger sister, Kinoway, lived with their father, Harold, and their grandmother at 127 Fifth St., N.W. Her mother, who has been married to and divorced from her father three times, has married again and lives elsewhere.

Kinoway worked at Scholtz-Bastian Division of the Koehne Co. in Waverly and is active in the Army Reserves.

He told a neighbor Wednesday morning that he wanted to view the site where the body was found because with his military background, he felt he could help authorities investigating the crime.

Monday night, the night after the girl was last seen, an area resident reported a prowler in the neighborhood in the police station.

The prowler had also been reported in the neighborhood on Saturday night, June 1.

Neighbor Arndt

"It's a frightening time after the power to think it's possible some trouble is brewing around" the neighbor, who refused to give her name, said.

The same neighbor said Mr. Kinoway had visited with her before leaving early Wednesday for New Hampshire and told her he was not "close" to his three girls.

Kinoway said he suspected that when the daughter did not return Sunday night or Monday she had probably hitchhiked to Waterloo.

Valerie, who attended Waverly-Sheriff Rock Junior High School, was described by Principal James W. Morrow as an "average" student who was getting along well.

Times Halts Secret War Study Series

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times, complying with a federal court restraining order, Wednesday halted publication of a secret Pentagon study of the Vietnam war, pending a hearing on the government's request for an injunction in the case.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Murray I. Garbus said in making the restraining order Tuesday that the questions involved were "serious and fundamental," going to the heart of the relationship between the government and a free press.

He ordered the series suspended until 1 p.m. Saturday and set a hearing for Friday, but he refused a government request that the Times be required to produce the Pentagon documents.

Ownership

Lawyers for the Times argued that the government's move against the newspaper was a case of "classic censorship" and appeared to be the first time in the nation's history that a newspaper was being restrained by a court from publishing an article.

The Justice Department charged in court that the publication "seriously interfered with the conduct of our foreign relations" and could "result in irreparable injury to the national defense."

Editorial

In an editorial Wednesday, the Times characterized the government's action as "an unprecedented example of censorship" and said, "The Times will continue to fight to the full extent possible within the law what we believe to be an unconstitutional, prior restraint imposed by the attorney general."

The Times said it would not have gone ahead with the series if it had been any reason to believe that publication would have endangered the life of a single American soldier or in any way diminished the security of the United States.

New Senate Vote To Cut Funds For Viet War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate debated its key vote Wednesday on a proposed deadline for withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Vietnam. The Republican national chairman urged defeat of the measure in favor of support for President Nixon and "the path of responsibility."

The GOP leader, Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, said the withdrawal amendment would "betray the sacrifices made and the progress achieved" in Southeast Asia.

But Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, said "there is no valid purpose served by prolonging our involvement in Vietnam."

"Let us end the war by setting a firm date for termination," Moss said.

Had Hearing

Moss and the prisoner of war issue "has been used as a red herring" in administration efforts to gain support for Nixon's policy.

Dole said advocates of setting a deadline, which would be achieved by cutting off funds for U.S. operations in Indochina of October 1972, propose to end U.S. involvement "on a way which will mock the efforts and sacrifices of the past" and raise the likelihood of future aggression.

"I can assure you that President Nixon will never choose such a course," the party chairman said. "He has chosen the path of responsibility. He will adhere to that path."

Mistake

"This amendment is a fatal mistake," said Sen. Strom Thurmond, R.S.C. "A vote for this amendment is a vote that would only bring the enemy."

Sen. James H. Allen, D-Ala., said Americans were peace, but "not peace through silent surrender."

"I," said House Minority Leader Carl Albert, "oppose the amendment to the draft extension bill would withdraw U.S. war funds Dec. 31. A substitute proposal would move the cutoff date to June 30, 1972, and allow the President to recall troops in Vietnam in the absence of an agreement for return of U.S. prisoners."

A roll by the Associated Press showed 54 senators firmly opposed to the House-McGovern amendment, 27 in favor and nine undecided. Three of the undecided were undecided to oppose the measure; two reportedly are in favor.

At Apoint

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott told President Nixon Tuesday the cut would be 20 weeks and 20 for the amendment sponsored by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and Mark O. Hatfield, O-Or.
