

Waterloo Courier Northeast Iowa

Helping out at Iowa Falls

Johny Freeman leads his team on the burning site. Lovers in Iowa Falls Wednesday evening. Three downtown buildings were destroyed in the early-morning blast, fought by six fire departments. The News Staff.

Vinton school budget amended

County News Service VINTON—The Vinton board of education Monday night amended the 1976-77 school budget to include $100,000 additional funds made available by reductions of the state aid formula by the Iowa legislature.

Johny Freeman leads his team on the burning site. Lovers in Iowa Falls Wednesday evening. Three downtown buildings were destroyed in the early-morning blast, fought by six fire departments. The News Staff.

New unsigned letter in Benning case

County News Service WAVERNE—An anonymous letter writer has mailed a second letter from Coopers regarding the Julia Benning case.

Plan okayed

CHERRY CENTER (CNS)—An agreement to share the printing of a newsletter with the Black Hawk County Department of Health was approved Monday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Tama jury finds for hunter in Dysart phony duck mishap

County News Service TOLSON—A Tama County jury Tuesday afternoon cleared Charles Havel, 26, of Dysart of any negligence in a $60,000 damage suit filed against him in connection with a unusual shooting incident in a swampy area east of Dysart four years ago.

Another in his job. The jury heard substantial testimony on the News Staff's claims of other shooting injuries to Tim Hase from the incident.

Unemployment rate up in Bremer area

County News Service WAVERNE—Mel Anderson, deputy superintendent of job service of Iowa, announced Monday that the unemployment rate for Bremer County rose to 11.9 per cent during the month of February.

Fire ravages Tripoli farmstead

County News Service WAVERNE—Mel Anderson, deputy superintendent of job service of Iowa, announced Monday that the unemployment rate for Bremer County rose to 11.9 per cent during the month of February.

Plan okayed

CHERRY CENTER (CNS)—An agreement to share the printing of a newsletter with the Black Hawk County Department of Health was approved Monday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Road workers bargain under law

Benton OKs contract

County News Service VINTON—The Benton County Board of Supervisors Monday night approved a first contract with county road workers under the new contract law.

Another in his job. The jury heard substantial testimony on the News Staff's claims of other shooting injuries to Tim Hase from the incident.

3 school staffers quit in Allison

County News Service ALLISON—Three letters of resignation were accepted Monday night at the Allison School Board meeting.

GOOD FRIDAY UNION WORSHIP SERVICE

High Church of Park Springs Trinity American Lutheran Church West Fourth at South Street Theme — "The Dying Christ Speaks To Us" (The Seven Last Words) Come for one hour, or for twenty minutes... BUT COME TO WORSHIP

Waterloo Courier THE QUIZ worldscope newpicture sportlight newsname matchwords roundtable ANSWERS ON REVERSE PAGE