

st.louis/wednesday

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1977 SECTION 1-B

Authorities Dig For Motive In Auto Bomb Killing

By WILLIAM FRYHOE and LINDA LOCKART JONES of the Post-Dispatch Staff

Police are continuing to dig for a motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman.

The motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman is being investigated by police.

Police are continuing to dig for a motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman.

Police are continuing to dig for a motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman.

Police are continuing to dig for a motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman.

Police are continuing to dig for a motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman.

Police are continuing to dig for a motive in the Oct. 7 auto bombing which killed a young man and injured a woman.

Mixed Feelings By Black Students Bused Under Court Merger Plan

By ERIC L. DECKER of the Post-Dispatch Staff

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

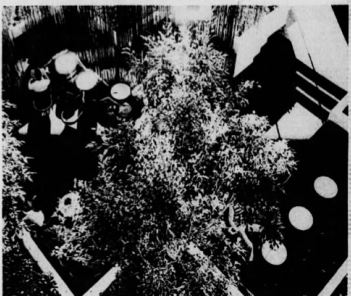

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

Many black students from Kirshock have had preliminary meetings with the Ferguson-Florissant School District.

TOMORROW'S THE DAY: An overhead view of the lobby of the new Sheraton St. Louis Hotel, where formal opening ceremonies will be held tomorrow.

Teacher Relates Fears, Abuse At E. St. Louis High School

By J. PLETZER of the Post-Dispatch Staff

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

"During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

During my last seven years of teaching, there were times when I feared for my life. I feared for my family, I feared for my students, I feared for my colleagues."

Boy Stabbed At U. City High School

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

A sophomore at University City High School was stabbed in the back yesterday by a high school graduate with another student, University City police reported.

Advertisement for Village Ace Hardware featuring 3 Day Values! on various tools and hardware items like chainsaws, detectors, and window covers.