

On Today's Editorial Page New Chief At The Fed Beyond Belgrade

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

1 MAR 9 1978

FINAL

Latest Stock Prices Pages 2E and 3E

Vol. 100, No. 67

Thursday, March 9, 1978

THURSDAY, MARCH 9, 1978

5W

15¢

GRIZZLY WEATHER: One of the few creatures indifferent to the bitter winter here this year has been the St. Louis Zoo's resident grizzly bear. His native habitat is snow-coun-

Meramec Flood 'Almost Certain' Next Week; Mississippi May Follow

By ROBERT GOODRICH of the Post-Dispatch Staff
The Meramec River is "almost a certainty" to flood next week. And there is a possibility that the Mississippi and Missouri rivers will flood in the next three months.

UE Air Plan May Cut Industry, EPA Warns

By DON BARTER of the Post-Dispatch Staff
The Environmental Protection Agency warned the Missouri Air Conservation Commission Wednesday that air pollution variances requested by Union Electric Co. may, if granted, force the imposition of sharp limits on future industrial growth in the St. Louis region.

Asbestos Cancer Warning Weighed

By RICHARD HEDMAN Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch
WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam has a bad message for those who love to dig: A special bureaucratic question is what agency would handle the matter.

Coal Strike Deadlock Goes To U.S. Court

WASHINGTON — The president's special fact-finding panel has concluded that the parties in the national coal strike are hopelessly deadlocked, and the Carter administration is asking a federal judge to order 80,000 miners back to work.

Senators Question Mrs. Slavin On Receiving Fees For Talks

By TERRY GANEY and E. F. PORTER JR. of the Post-Dispatch Staff
JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri Public Service Commissioner Albert Slavin was called to appear today before a Senate committee to explain her receipt of $12 in speaking fees from a business association.

Ohlhausen Said He Was In Fear Of Co-Worker

By WILLIAM FRETWEGEL and JO HANNES of the Post-Dispatch Staff
PODUCAR, KY. — William K. Ohlhausen said a co-worker in Paducah that he was fearful of John Stankowich because the former work colleague had been arrested for planting a bomb, according to newspaper accounts.

Asbestos Cancer Warning Weighed

By RICHARD HEDMAN Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch
WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam has a bad message for those who love to dig: A special bureaucratic question is what agency would handle the matter.

Meramec Flood 'Almost Certain' Next Week; Mississippi May Follow

By ROBERT GOODRICH of the Post-Dispatch Staff
The Meramec River is "almost a certainty" to flood next week. And there is a possibility that the Mississippi and Missouri rivers will flood in the next three months.

Coal Strike Deadlock Goes To U.S. Court

WASHINGTON — The president's special fact-finding panel has concluded that the parties in the national coal strike are hopelessly deadlocked, and the Carter administration is asking a federal judge to order 80,000 miners back to work.

Senators Question Mrs. Slavin On Receiving Fees For Talks

By TERRY GANEY and E. F. PORTER JR. of the Post-Dispatch Staff
JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri Public Service Commissioner Albert Slavin was called to appear today before a Senate committee to explain her receipt of $12 in speaking fees from a business association.

Ohlhausen Said He Was In Fear Of Co-Worker

By WILLIAM FRETWEGEL and JO HANNES of the Post-Dispatch Staff
PODUCAR, KY. — William K. Ohlhausen said a co-worker in Paducah that he was fearful of John Stankowich because the former work colleague had been arrested for planting a bomb, according to newspaper accounts.

Meramec Flood 'Almost Certain' Next Week; Mississippi May Follow

By ROBERT GOODRICH of the Post-Dispatch Staff
The Meramec River is "almost a certainty" to flood next week. And there is a possibility that the Mississippi and Missouri rivers will flood in the next three months.

Coal Strike Deadlock Goes To U.S. Court

WASHINGTON — The president's special fact-finding panel has concluded that the parties in the national coal strike are hopelessly deadlocked, and the Carter administration is asking a federal judge to order 80,000 miners back to work.

Senators Question Mrs. Slavin On Receiving Fees For Talks

By TERRY GANEY and E. F. PORTER JR. of the Post-Dispatch Staff
JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri Public Service Commissioner Albert Slavin was called to appear today before a Senate committee to explain her receipt of $12 in speaking fees from a business association.

Ohlhausen Said He Was In Fear Of Co-Worker

By WILLIAM FRETWEGEL and JO HANNES of the Post-Dispatch Staff
PODUCAR, KY. — William K. Ohlhausen said a co-worker in Paducah that he was fearful of John Stankowich because the former work colleague had been arrested for planting a bomb, according to newspaper accounts.

Meramec Flood 'Almost Certain' Next Week; Mississippi May Follow

By ROBERT GOODRICH of the Post-Dispatch Staff
The Meramec River is "almost a certainty" to flood next week. And there is a possibility that the Mississippi and Missouri rivers will flood in the next three months.

thursday local NEW ALLEGATION AGAINST BUSSEY: Rep. William L. Clay continued to assist Charles L. Bussey Jr., the head of the city's sewerage agency. Page 3A.

Asbestos Cancer Warning Weighed By RICHARD HEDMAN Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch