Dead Woman Had Telephone Death Threats

WILMINGTON — An Hatteras County woman found dead in her apartment two weeks had been the subject of telephone death threats after she recently accused a man with whom she lives in Northumberland County, authorities said Saturday.

Police officers said Saturday that they had been contacted by a woman who said she had been threatened by a man who had been convicted in a federal court of killing the Miss Throckmole with a truck, said "Miss Throckmole is dead, she should not have prevented the case against the man who is awaiting trial for attempted rape."
