It is enough to put him in the electric chair.
Marie died a painful death at the hands of South when she was raped and suffocated. Lee County Medical Examiner Dr. Wallace Graves testified Friday...

But legal jousting, which lasted more than 4 1/2 hours, kept the jurors in their waiting room outside the courtroom.
Prosecutors and defense attorneys argued about what jurors should know about South's past convictions for molesting children...

South was convicted of asking several admissions to admit to be "played" games with them.
For the case to be mentioned to the jury, the state must show that South committed the other sexual offenses with violence or the threat of violence, defense attorney John Shearer said...

about the hair found in Scott's car and the attempted rape victim's testimony offered new evidence that the crimes were conspiracy theories.
However, Johnson argued that Malone didn't say the hair was Pikaritz's — only that it had the same characteristics...

The trial, which began with jury selection Jan. 5, is expected to conclude sometime next week.

And, he said, even if the hair did belong to Pikaritz, there is a possibility of things that could have caused it to fall out. It wasn't necessarily pulled, he said.
The testimony of Malone, a senior examiner in the FBI's Laboratory Fibers Unit, was the prosecution's last witness...

about the two pieces of evidence to lead any real credence to the state's theory.

From the start, they have said that the hair and a shell found in the back of a car Scott drove would persuade jurors Scott killed Pikaritz.
Malone's testimony about the hair and testimony that the shell appeared to have come from a necklace that was found by Pikaritz's charred body will convict Scott, prosecutors said...

Johnson disagreed. He said there are too many unanswered questions.
