

ONWARD /5

The Austin scene: Music meets the middle-aged

BUSINESS /B4

Watching Japan, stock market tumbles again

LIFESTYLE /D1

Coalition marks 10 years of pushing peace

WEATHER

High: Low 80s Low: Mid-60s Cloudy, 20 percent chance of rain

Austin American-Statesman

50 CENTS PUBLISHED SINCE 1871 THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1992

More East Austin wells tainted

By Mike Ward and Scott W. Wright

Four new test wells near an East Austin tank farm are tainted with chemicals derived from petroleum...

Pipeline blast sparks East Austin safety concerns

John Young, the agency's Austin district manager, said the findings raised new questions about how extensive the environmental problem is...

Coalition marks 10 years of pushing peace

Water Commission officials, however, said the tank farm is the most likely source of the pollution...

Coalition marks 10 years of pushing peace

Water Commission officials, however, said the tank farm is the most likely source of the pollution...

Coalition marks 10 years of pushing peace

Water Commission officials, however, said the tank farm is the most likely source of the pollution...

Witness tampering is alleged after trial

Officer faces new accusations

By Kimberly Garcia and Jim Phillips

Tarrant County prosecutors are investigating allegations of witness tampering against Austin police Senior Sgt. Hector Palacios...

Checking the aftermath Friends search the wreckage of the Malen family's home, destroyed by a pipeline explosion near Bren-

Barton Creek Properties files building plans

By Mike Todd

Barton Creek Properties, the development company that has become a focus of the Austin water-quality debate, filed preliminary plans Wednesday to build 5,000 houses and apartments on its land just west of town...

Barton Creek building plan

Plans filed by Barton Creek Properties cover 5,948.3 acres. The breakdown: 1,916 large lots, one-half to one acre...

Richards plans to keep CED tax for 2nd year

By Debbie Graves

Under Gov. Ann Richards' plan for solving the school finance crisis, Texas would have to pay the unconstitutional county education district taxes for a second year...

that system in place next year." As a result, the CED tax would be collected again, even though it has been ruled illegal by the Texas Supreme Court...

Experts: Antihistamines don't work against colds

By Christopher Scanlon

WASHINGTON — Your mother, as usual, was right: Chicken soup apparently is still the best weapon against the miseries of the common cold...

Inside Today's sections

- News Section A, 1-20 City & State Section B, 1-8, 12 Business Section C, 4-9 Classified Section C, 1-10 Lifestyle Section D, 1-8 Sports Section E, 1-8 Entertainment Onward

Index

- Ann Landers Lifestyle D2 Bridge Lifestyle D2 Comics Lifestyle D11 Countdown Lifestyle D2 Deaths News A16, D1 Law Daily Lifestyle D2 TV Log Lifestyle D2

Tennis legend Ashe tells world he has AIDS

Compiled from News Service

NEW YORK — Tennis great Arthur Ashe, a prominent writer, historian and civil rights activist in recent years, announced Wednesday that he has AIDS...

Transfusion not common method of contracting HIV

Ashe's disclosure drives home severity of crisis

1979 bypass operation on the '83 operation, Ashe told a news conference. "It was 80 percent sure it was the '83 operation..."

Arthur Ashe says inquires from his condition. 'I feel angry,' he says.