

Courier METRO LIFE Monday, September 9, 1996

Henry Rathjen, Managing Editor (291-1445) Lisa Connolly, State Editor (291-1451)

School Beat

Debate has nasty edge to it

Here's a famous "Saturday Night Live" skit that catches me every time I see it. It's a deadpan post-conference discussion where Jane Carlin and Dan Aykroyd discuss weight issues such as the United States giving formal recognition to Red China, and then fly into each other with leafless personal attacks.

Waverly teen's murder a 25-year-old puzzle

Events surrounding death of Valerie Klossowsky remembered by family, friend. When Begg's parents arrived to pick up the girls, Begg told them that Valerie had done...

Unsolved mysteries of Northeast Iowa

Clady Begg and Valerie Klossowsky were in school. Begg said the look on her unappreciative mother's face said it all. "It sat on the table, and I started to shake," Begg said.

Overdue recognition Newspaper volunteer work fills Abbas' life

Overdue recognition Newspaper volunteer work fills Abbas' life. Clady Begg and Valerie Klossowsky were in school. Begg said the look on her unappreciative mother's face said it all.

Legal holiday

Delaware County residents get history lesson at courthouse event. And after a long battle, Manchester took away Delta's designation. The first county courthouse in Manchester was built in 1981.

Accident at intersection takes another man's life

Obituary on page B2. The accident remains under investigation, and no charges have been filed. Klina, who once lived in Waterloo, is the son of veterinarian Charles and Francis Klina. He was attending Hawkeye Community College.

Waverly teen's murder a 25-year-old puzzle

Events surrounding death of Valerie Klossowsky remembered by family, friend. When Begg's parents arrived to pick up the girls, Begg told them that Valerie had done...

Delaware County residents get history lesson at courthouse event

By ANADIE GROSS. County staff writer. They sat in silence, taking in the judge's every word. But it wasn't just another day in court.

Accident at intersection takes another man's life

Obituary on page B2. The accident remains under investigation, and no charges have been filed. Klina, who once lived in Waterloo, is the son of veterinarian Charles and Francis Klina.

Waverly teen's murder a 25-year-old puzzle

Events surrounding death of Valerie Klossowsky remembered by family, friend. When Begg's parents arrived to pick up the girls, Begg told them that Valerie had done...

Delaware County residents get history lesson at courthouse event

By ANADIE GROSS. County staff writer. They sat in silence, taking in the judge's every word. But it wasn't just another day in court.

Accident at intersection takes another man's life

Obituary on page B2. The accident remains under investigation, and no charges have been filed. Klina, who once lived in Waterloo, is the son of veterinarian Charles and Francis Klina.

Waverly teen's murder a 25-year-old puzzle

Events surrounding death of Valerie Klossowsky remembered by family, friend. When Begg's parents arrived to pick up the girls, Begg told them that Valerie had done...